Hi Dan,

Thanks for your email. Luckily, we are all safe. The centre of the earthquake was close to my home, but most of the people who 1) (die) _____ were in Christchurch, twenty kilometres away. Only two people were from Lyttleton, but I 2) (not know) _____ them. No one I know was hurt, but over half the buildings in the main street 3) (destroy) _____. The earthquake happened while we 4) (have) _____ lunch at school. We 5) (just begin) _____ to eat when the building started to shake. Luckily, our school is earthquake-proof, so it wasn't badly damaged. We all knew what to do. We 6) (have) _____ earthquake practice quite often here. Everyone just walked to the playground away from the building.

While we 7) (stand) _____ there, we heard what had happened in Christchurch. Later, some parents came to take their kids home. There was no school for a week because there wasn't any electricity. I 8) (not go) _____ to Christchurch because it was too dangerous, but I watched the news on television every day. It was terrible. I 9) (be) _____ to Cathedral Square in Christchurch just two days before the earthquake. I'm hopeful that things 10) (go back) _____ to normal soon.

Thanks again for writing.
All the best,
Gary

A

These tribes were hunters. They didn't wear clothes before the Europeans arrived even though the climate of the islands is very cold. They kept warm by covering their bodies in animal fat and by lighting fires. This is how the islands got their name: Tierra del Fuego means 'Land of Fire'.

B

In 2002, there were about 1,685 Yaghan people living in Chile, but most of them don't speak the Yaghan language any more. In fact, in 2002 there were only two native speakers of this language. One of them died in 2005; this means that a woman called Cristina Calderón is now the last Yaghan speaker in the world. In 2005 she published a book of Yaghan stories called Hai Kur Mamashu Shis, which means 'I want to tell you a story'.

C

Tierra del Fuego is a group of islands at the southern tip of South America. Half of the main island, Isla Grande de Tierra del Fuego, belongs to Chile and the other half to Argentina. When the first Europeans arrived on the islands, there were several groups of people living there.

D

The four main tribes of Tierra del Fuego looked similar to the Europeans, but they spoke different languages. One of these is Kawesqar, and it is now an endangered language. There are only about ten speakers on Tierra del Fuego and another ten on Wellington Island, south-west of Chile. However, Kawesqar is in a much healthier position than Yaghan.
